Building a Church Full of Leaders helps churches identify, train, and place people into more effective ministry roles.

Building a Church Full of Leaders helps members understand the structure of the church, recognize their own “giftings” and “growing edges,” and identify places within the ministry to which they may be called to serve.

“Get motivated to change the way you define leadership.”

What does it mean to build a church full of leaders?

A church full of leaders is a church in which more members are engaged in ministry and serving according to their gifts and skills. Each person is gifted to serve and to be a transforming agent in their own corner of the world.

What is Building a Church Full of Leaders about?

Building a Church Full of Leaders guides pastors in developing their church’s full leadership capacity. Through new perspective, strategy and structure, pastors learn to develop a culture of leadership, allowing the church membership as a whole to become engaged in the work of ministry and fulfill their God-given ministry mandate.

How is the book to be used by pastors?

Building a Church Full of Leaders provides comprehensive information and direction that can be implemented from day one! The book is divided into three critical elements sections: strategic organizing, spiritual formation, and skill building. Each is self-contained and easy-to-follow. Pastors can focus on the section requiring their immediate attention, and conclude with the remaining sections.

Why should pastors buy this book?

First and foremost, a pastor who is doing everything him or herself needs a process of developing leaders to assist in the leadership of the church. Leaders of churches that are in the midst of transition, either stagnation or growth, should consider using the process as a means of clarifying vision around which to rally the current leaders and begin to plug in new leaders.
What topics does Dr. King speak on?

Dr. Jeanne Porter King is passionate about inspiring leaders, women and men, to lead and live transformatively—from the inside out. Popular presentations include:

- Leadership (general), focusing on influence and the power to get things done without overpowering others
- Church Leadership—developing leaders within your existing congregations, implementing biblical approaches to transformative leadership, and the lifetime journey of the spiritual formation of leaders
- Women’s Leadership and Ministry—developing women leaders, and building a strong women’s ministry
- Transformative Living—unpacking your purpose, living with passion, and pursuing your dream

Why did you write Building a Church Full of Leaders?

Whether urban or suburban, the contexts for ministry have become more complex. The pastor cannot do it alone. As pastors, we must develop competent men and women of character who are able to bring a God-given vision to fruition. Building a Church Full of Leaders is a valuable tool for pastors to guide them in this process. It provides strategy and structure for developing a culture of leadership in which more of the congregation can become engaged in the work of ministry, allowing the church as a whole to fulfill its God-given ministry mandate.

Is the transformative leadership teaching available in other formats?

Dr. King is available for live church leadership training sessions, workshops, and guest speaking engagements. Her desire is to equip pastors and their congregations with the tools to unlock their leadership potential, transform their churches and communities, and fulfill their God-given ministry mandate. Inquiries may be sent to Dr. King through www.JeannePorterKing.com.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Long-Awaited Help for Emerging Churches is Now Available

(CHICAGO, IL) Author, professor, ordained minister, and business consultant Dr. Jeanne Porter King announces the release of her newest book, Building a Church Full of Leaders. As a nationally sought after expert in transformational leadership, Dr. Jeanne Porter King travels the globe to consult with senior pastors, showing them how to unlock their churches’ leadership potential. By focusing on the three principal areas of development—strategic organizing, spiritual formation, and skill building—Dr. Jeanne Porter King guides ministry leaders in developing their church’s leadership capacity by investing in their members to do the work of ministry.

As founder and president of TransPorter Consulting Group LLC, Dr. King is well-acquainted with transformational leadership. For the past 25 years, she has successfully guided an impressive list of corporations, community groups, and institutions of higher education in leadership development, communications coaching, and process improvement. As an ordained minister of Christ Community Church, Dr. King has an established history of helping senior pastors and ministry leaders apply many of these same principles toward their churches, allowing them to maximize their ministry impact.

“This book was written as a manual to guide church leaders and members through a process to unlock their church’s leadership potential. It is an accessible tool for pastors who desire to build the leadership capacity of their church by investing in the people of the church to do the work of ministry.” –Dr. Jeanne Porter King

Building a Church Full of Leaders culminates this expertise into one step-by-step guide for the ministry leader who wants to release the untapped potential of its membership. Rev. Nicholas Pearce, Ph.D., Clinical Assistant Professor of Management & Organizations with Northwestern University’s Kellogg School of Management, says, “Building a Church Full of Leaders is essential reading for pastors who want to harness the full leadership potential within their churches.” Pastor John Hannah, Senior Pastor of New Life Covenant, states “Many of the organizational strategies used in this book were implemented. As of today, New Life Covenant holds more than five thousand members and continues to use Dr. Porter King’s transformative leadership strategy in Building a Church Full of Leaders to implement foundational leaders in the church body.”

Building a Church Full of Leaders is available through Amazon.com, Barnes&Noble.com, Ingram’s Book Distributors, and all major booksellers. To learn more about Dr. Jeanne Porter King, please visit www.JeannePorterKing.com.

Our church’s rapid growth rate was overwhelming; I reached out to Dr. Porter King as a 911 to help us organize our leadership. Many of the organizational strategies used in this book were implemented. Our very first org chart was developed, helping us to train the leaders within our four walls and allowing me to focus on the overall mission of our organization instead of the pressures of growth.

Pastor John F. Hannah
Senior Pastor, New Life Covenant SE, Chicago, Illinois

In the cultivation of congregations, wise leadership is about vigilance as well as vision. For pastors aspiring to this kind of leadership, this book is the next best thing to the Spirit-led, in-person, on-site inspiration Jeanne Porter King offers in her teaching and consulting.

Dr. Virstan Choy
Director of Advanced Pastoral Studies, San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Francisco, California

Building a Church Full of Leaders is essential reading for pastors who want to harness the full leadership potential within their churches. This handbook blends timeless scriptural truths and management insights to equip leaders to tackle the challenge head on.

Rev. Nicholas Pearce, Ph.D.

Kellogg School of Management, Northwestern University, Chicago, Illinois

Building a Church Full of Leaders provides more than theory; it provides necessary application. Readers will be struck by the transformative nature of each chapter; Dr. Porter King is always mindful of process, growth, and the ever-present next step. This book is a must read for pastors in particular and church leaders in general.

Bishop Howard Tillman
Pastor, New Covenant Believer’s Church, Columbus, Ohio

Dr. Porter King’s Church Full of Leaders system is an innovative resource that fosters the leadership skills of the entire church body, and has given us a larger talent pool to draw from for various leadership opportunities in our congregation and community. Our leadership has been revitalized and our vision has been sharpened.

Dr. D. Darrell Griffin, D.Min.
Senior Pastor, Oakdale Covenant Church of Chicago, Chicago, Illinois
This book recognizes the value and potential of the entire congregation and provides tangible tools for developing leaders at all levels.

Pastor Elaine Graham

A sequel to Dr. King’s first book, Leading Ladies, which explored how the Bible supports women in leadership, this volume delves deeper, providing insights into growing into leadership, leading through adversity, challenging the status quo, and seeing leadership potential in unexpected people. Nine scripturally based studies examine lessons of leadership from specific women of the Bible. From Eve, we discover how to unlock our leadership potential; from Esther, we learn about leadership formation from within. Each chapter includes a summary page of empowerment principles, as well as a series of questions for personal reflection or group discussion.
